The Military Aviation Museum of the Pacific

Ford Island's Military History lives on!

An exciting new museum is about to take shape at Pearl Harbor, one of America's most important historic sites, and the nation's only aviation battleground. The Military Aviation Museum of the Pacific will be located on 22.7 acres of the Ford Island Airfield in the middle of Pearl Harbor, and will be housed in the landmark control tower and three aircraft hangars that survived the brutal Japanese attack on December 7th, 1941.

The Museum is an ambitious $50 million project that will tell the rich story of America's aviators in their gallant defense of freedom in the Pacific from World War I through present-day conflicts. With over 217,000 square feet of indoor display space containing vintage and modern aircraft, the Museum will feature innovative, educational and interactive exhibits, including a full-scale indoor replica of a WWII carrier deck, flight simulators and a large-screen theater recreation of the December 7th attack. Currently in the fundraising and development stages, the Military Aviation Museum of the Pacific is scheduled to open to the public on December 7th, 2005. The museum artifacts museum is a charitable, tax-exempt 501 (c)3 organization now accepting tax-deductible donations of money and artifacts.

To learn more about the museum, visit the museum website at www.militaryaviationmuseum.com, or contact Allan Palmer, the museum's Executive Director and CEO at (808) 836-7747 .

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As I write this message, the East Coast is freezing. Hawaii is balmy and tropical. The CD is playing "Sentimental Journey" with the walking bass – all is well – so let's savor the moment and be thankful we live in Paradise! Now on to MOAA business.

What is new with the Chapter?? – The 2003 Directory is out this week and let us know if you spot any errors by e-mail: petersj007@hawaii.rr.com or call John Peters at 484-9748. For instance on the front cover, the Chapter website which should read: <http://www.moaa-hawaii.org> and the e-mail address: info@moaa-hawaii.org. The Chapter thanks the team of John Peters, John Harms and George Montague that made the Directory happen and enough Ads were sold to cover the costs of publication. Well done!

The web site at National for MOAA Member services at www.moaa.org is worth a visit for all Chapter members on the internet. We do realize that many members do not have or use computers – and that's okay – you are still loved and wanted.

Recruit! Do an Officer friend a favor and ask him to join MOAA for the $15.00 introductory rate to both National and the Chapter, it is top dollar value!! The bottom line for this month is let's all support our country, the Military and each other. There may be rocky days ahead but as MOAA members we speak at the national level with one powerful voice. Aloha, Jack

The Elected Officers, Committee Chairmen, Board of Directors information is found in your 2003 DIRECTORY.

THE BRIDGE CORNER

By Robbie Gee

The new year started with a bang at the monthly gathering of the TROA Party Bridge Group which was hosted by Robbie and Bob Gee at their condo at The Esplanade in Hawaii Kai on Saturday, 25 January 2003. The five tables of friendly bridge play included visiting former members Craig and Gigette Caldwell, and returning "snowbirds" Peggy and Bud Hurless. Also joining in the fun were members Les and Shirley Ihara, Jack Miller, Judith Breitwieser, Marian Davis, Pennie Penterman, Ken and Lillian Patterson, Beverly Willmmarth and Joan and John Peters. Guests were Alice Mather, Anne Willmarth, and Phyllis Brassier.

The big winner for the evening was Craig Caldwell who is regularly a top scorer, 2nd place went to Pennie Penterman, 3rd place was awarded to Les Ihara, and 4th place was earned by guest Alice Mather. The cards were very unkind to someone who frequently wins 1st place, Gigette Caldwell, who won the "booby" prize.

Remember to call me at 255-4558 not later than the weekend beforehand to reserve your seat at the bridge table. Nonsmoking players Remember to call me at 255-4558 not later than the weekend beforehand to reserve your seat at the bridge table. Nonsmoking players of all abilities are welcome with or without a partner. This is a FUN bunch who enjoy another opportunity to socialize with their TROA/MOAA friends and who don't take their bridge too seriously! The group usually meets on the last Saturday of the month at 7pm at various locations around the island on a rotation basis, but watch your Pau Hana Koa each month for the dates, as exceptions do occur.

Medicare Reimbursement Rates Get Boost!!

President signs 2003 Omnibus Appropriations Act

After a reduction in Medicare reimbursement rates of 5.4% in 2002 and a further 4.1% reduction scheduled to take effect on March 1, 2003, Congress acted at the last minute to stop the March 1 cut and included a 1.6% rate increase to Medicare providers to take effect that date. These rate increases are directly linked to TRICARE payments. Many physicians have refused to accept new Medicare and TRICARE patients and while this rate increase is not expected to attract physicians back to the programs, hopefully it will stop the exodus. Congress also authorized changes to the formula used to calculate the rates.

DOD to Test Stateside Space-A for Families

On 1 April 2003, DOD will permit family members who accompany their military sponsors to use space-available air travel within the continental United States as part of a one-year test program. Dependents of active-duty members and military retirees will be eligible during the test program, and their travel priority will be the same as their sponsor's. To register for Space-A travel, active-duty sponsors must be on leave or a pass while awaiting travel and through the travel period. Retirees may sign up 60 days in advance, but not before the test begins April 1. Eligible parties can obtain sign-up information at <http://amcpublic.scott.af.mil/Spacea/spacea.htm>. A list of passenger terminals and tel. nos. are also there.

FY 2004 Budget Proposal Released

The Bush Administration released its FY 2004 budget proposal which included a record $380 billion spending request for the Department of Defense, a 4.2 percent increase from FY 2003. The Coast Guard would also receive a $615 million boost in budget authority under the Department of Homeland Security -- a 10 percent increase. The VA budget for health care would increase by 7.4%; however, non-service connected priority 7 and all priority 8 veterans would pay a $250 annual enrollment fee and co-payment increases for primary care and pharmacy use would increase for some.

SBP Improvement Bill Introduced Again

Florida Congressman Jeff Miller (R) introduced the Military Survivor Benefits Improvement Act of 2003 (H.R. 548), which would phase out the Social Security offset experienced by beneficiaries in the Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP). The legislation was introduced with 118 original cosponsors. (Neither Reps. Abercrombie nor Case is a co-sponsor.) The bill responds to the offset experienced by survivors who face a reduction from 55 percent to 35 percent in their SBP annuities at age 62 and would be effective October 1, 2004. The benefit would increase by 5% per year until the offset is fully eliminated on October 1, 2007. (There is currently no companion bill in the Senate.)

MOAA has a major campaign underway on this issue, and everyone's support is needed. MOAA will have updates in print and electronic media and special mailings so that all can do their part to restore equity to the Survivor Benefit Plan.

Concurrent Receipt Bill Reintroduced in Senate

Senate Minority Whip Harry Reid (D-NV) and John McCain (R-AZ) reintroduced companion legislation to the Retired Pay Restoration Act of 2003 (H.R. 303) in the Senate (S. 392). (The House bill was reintroduced earlier by Rep. Michael Bilirakis (R-FL).) The bill aims to end concurrent receipt restrictions for disabled military retirees. Reid introduced concurrent receipt legislation in previous congresses, and is a staunch ally to disabled military retirees on this issue. S. 392 already has 37 cosponsors including Senate Minority Leader Thomas Daschle (D-SD) and Senate Armed Services Committee Ranking Member Carl Levin (D-MI). (Hawaii Senators Inouye and Akaka are co-sponsors; Rep. Abercrombie is a co-sponsor of the House bill.)

The sponsors recognize that quick action in 2003 appears unlikely, given that it will not be known which retirees are or are not covered by the recently enacted provision until about June 1. That's the date the new special compensation will be payable, but the Defense Department is still struggling to work out application and approval procedures to identify which disabilities qualify as combat- or operations-related.

LAVA Meetings may Change Day and Location

The Legislative Affairs and Veterans Affairs Committee may change meeting locations and day of the month. Attendance has dropped at the meetings held at the Kaneohe O'Club during the last few months. A new day of the month and location will be announced to all members by E-mail and will be in the next edition of the PHK. The Committee Chairman appreciates the support given by all members. The Committee Chairman appreciates the support given by all members.

SENIOR or TRICARE Mail Order Pharmacy Program Change By Colonel John E. Harms, USMC (ret)

In the beginning was the “word” then the “word” was changed is an old military adage. Well the Senior/TRICARE Mail Order Pharmacy Program will conform to this adage by changing its current drug provider “Medco Health” to “Express Scripts” effective 1 March 2003. Allegedly the transfer of the beneficiary data base between these two drug companies will occur without a hitch, but in my humble experience, Murphy of Murphy’s Law fame will prevail and some type of difficulty for we beneficiaries, big or small, will occur during the transfer of the pharmacy program contract.

I have been on the telephone with Express Scripts Customer Service and visiting their Internet site for the past few days, and Mr. “Murphy” has reared his head already, with conflicting information being provided as people appear to be scrambling to get all in place for the program transfer on 1 March 2003. PLEASE read carefully the following process for those members now participating in the Senior Pharmacy/DOD Pharmacy Mail Order program. IF you have any prescriptions currently with MedCo Health that have refills still in effect, your personal/program profile allegedly will pass on to Express Scripts. IF there are NO refills due on any of your mail in prescriptions your personal/program profile WILL NOT pass on to Express Scripts. Most of the Express Script Customer Representatives advised very strongly that ALL that is ALL current participants/beneficiaries in the Senior Pharmacy/DOD Mail Order Pharmacy program TELEPHONE EXPRESS SCRIPTS CUSTOMER SERVICE AND ESTABLISH A NEW/CONFIRM OLD PERSONAL/PROGRAM PROFILE. To accomplish this you can telephone (toll free) 1-866-363-8667 and talk to an Express Script Customer Representative and establish your personal/program file. You must establish a participant/beneficiary profile for EACH person using or enrolled in the Senior Pharmacy program. Start out with the first profile being that of the sponsor, or the person so reflected in the DEERS database. Name, address, social security/military ID number OF SPONSOR, telephone number, the primary doctor’s name and telephone number, and an email address if you have one. Also a credit card number if you desire to charge the costs for processing the prescriptions to this type of account. Once the Customer Representative has the Sponsor’s profile, then proceed with each dependent, but always provide the sponsors social security/military ID number with each dependent. For widows whose husband was your sponsor, so indicate to the Customer Service Representative your widow status and provide your information above, but insure you give them your husband’s/sponsor social security number/military ID for this is the qualification reference number in DEERS. You can also register or establish a profile at the Express Script web site (see below). Hopefully by the time you read this article all the problems with this site will be resolved, to include registering both the sponsor and dependents. Current (6 February 03) site you cannot register dependents. Current participants/beneficiaries should have received a package from Express Script describing their program by the time you read this. BUT, for your safety PLEASE do not assume (remember that word makes an “ass” of “u” and “me”) that your personal/program profile has transferred from Medco Health to Express Script.

I know this appears to be a lot of hassle, but remember the Mail Order Pharmacy still costs only $9.00 for branded and $3.00 for generic drugs for a 90 (ninety) day supply. You can only get a 30-day supply for the same costs at a local pharmacy. If you participate in the Senior Pharmacy/DOD Mail Order Pharmacy program, you can still get drug prescriptions filled at your local pharmacy, except those drugs that you still have on hand from the mail order program. Sorry you cannot double up on the “Viagra”, by going both the mail order and local pharmacy for prescription fill. Also when you send in your prescription to Express Script, insure it is for a quantity that represents a 90 day supply, and up to three refills. Doctor’s will make out prescriptions for this quantity if you advise them you are sending this to the Senior Pharmacy.

Special “Blister” packaging of drugs required for Care Home or Nursing Home residents is still under review. Will keep you advised. The Internet address is www.express-scripts.com. Contact me at 261-2282 or email JandBHarms@aol.com if you have any additional questions.

THE USERS GROUP (TUG)

Colonel Lou Torraca,USAF, (

Reminder: Our March meeting at the Bishop Museum will be on the second Saturday, March 8 due to a scheduling conflict.

I suspect, if you're like me, you've tried a bunch of digital photo programs to make your pictures look good! Most of the ones I've tried are the "lite" versions that come with a printer or scanner and so far I haven't been able to do much fixing up of my pictures. But, I think I have found the solution. Adobe's new Photoshop Elements 2.0. This program, believe it or not, has almost all of the "goodies" that Photoshop 7.0 has at a sixth of the cost. Yup, that's not a typo, it's $99 versus almost $600! I've known for some time that the real McCoy of programs was Photoshop, but no way was I going to invest that kind of money on something I don't really use that much, so PS Elements was the answer to my dilemma. Photoshop Elements 2.0 strikes a good balance between advanced options for power users and allowing those with little processing knowledge (read Lou) to produce fantastic images with "Quick Fix" brightness, color, contrast, white balance, focus and straighten options. Images can be optimized for e-mail or the Web and multiple images can be blended into panoramas with Adobe Photomerge.

To get a better idea of what I'm talking about, you may want to download the free software, Adobe ActiveShare from www.adobe.com.

Photoshop Elements 2.0 has a glossary, dialog tips and recipes all along. These context-sensitive help features really help you from getting lost.

They help you to learn and then you can take full control of the program. In addition, you won't have to worry about outgrowing it any time soon.

This program has so many features, it would take lots more room than we have here to tell all about them, so here are some of the ones I found most useful:

1. Auto Levels -- With one click, colors pop and become more vibrant. Skin tones are optimized. The color cast from indoor or fluorescent lighting is eliminated. To do this manually would be much more time consuming (and definitely hit-or-miss).
2. Auto Contrast -- Also with one click, the light/dark contrast (and tonal range) of a photo is optimized making the image much more attractive.
3. Sharpen -- This takes a few clicks, but this command will make digital photos a bit sharper. (This also happens automatically with "Auto Contrast.") Sharpening digital photos, especially at longer focal lengths (or when using lower megapixel cameras like mine), is pretty handy.
4. Fill Flash -- This command is amazing. It will brighten all surfaces (in shadow) facings towards the camera (even in the background). If faces are too dark, it will lighten them. If details are lost in the shadows, it will restore them. Brighter areas are unaffected. This command almost eliminates the need for outdoor fill flash, and makes for much more natural photos. If you take a lot of people pictures, (or if you like to shoot with natural light), this tool is super.
5. Sunset Light -- This digital filter will give a photo taken during bright sunlight the effect of an evening image. The sky and all reflected surfaces will look warmer.
6. Color Cast Correction -- This is a really cool tool. For photos where the color is seriously off due to indoor lighting (beyond what can be remedied by the Auto Levels feature above), this fixes it with just one click. Simply put the cursor on an area you know to be black or gray -- and Photoshop Elements will adjust all of the colors (in the entire photo) accordingly. It works fantastically. If you're not satisfied, just keep clicking around other portions of the black or gray area until you get the overall color balance that you're seeking.

For my own use, I've found that I won't print a photo -- until I run it through Photoshop Elements first! I'll usually apply tips #1-3 to every photo. (This only takes seconds.) I'll use the Fill Flash feature when faces are too dark (or when the contrast between light and dark is too high.) Lastly, I'll use tools #5-6 only when the situation requires it.

Photoshop Elements also has a convenient "step backwards" function which will delete the effects of the last command (in case you like the previous image better).

Other photo editing programs provide a lot of special effects or photo album-type backgrounds. I just want my photos to be better! Adobe Photoshop Elements works for me.

Finally, a tip for you to use with your new PS Elements, courtesy of Jeff Levy:

TURN A PICTURE INTO YOUR COMPUTER WALLPAPER

You can use any photograph as your computer wallpaper or Windows background. It's easy. If you have a digital camera, load your favorite photo into your computer and open it in Photoshop Elements. If you didn't get it yet, you can open it with the Paint program that comes with Windows (Start, Programs, Accessories, Paint). Choose "Save As" and save the photo to your hard drive. Be sure to make a note of where you save the file. Close the photo-editing software program. Click on Start, then on settings, and then open Control Panel. Double-click on the Display icon and then click on the Background tab. Click the Browse button to gain access to a list of files and directories. Navigate to your new photograph and double-click on the file name. Now you should see your photo in the image of a screen on the dialog box. Click the Apply button and then click OK. Your favorite photo is now your Desktop wallpaper. That's it for this month. Hopefully, for April, I'll tell you all about another photo program called Send Photos you can use to share your PS Elements masterpieces via e-mail.

Come see us at a future meeting and learn more about that PC you have. Visit www.the_tug.homestead.com for details.

Happy Computing. Lou
