THE COFFEE BREAK CRUISE

Take a break from the kitchen this Thanksgiving! MOAA's cruise committee head, Bob Kessler, has put together a great cruise opportunity for our Chapter on Norwegian Cruise Lines America's PRIDE OF ALOHA. Sailing date is November 20, 2005, from Aloha Tower. We return to Aloha Tower Sunday, November 27, after an inter-island itinerary that includes an evening cruise past the Big Island's colorful lava flow, and a great view of the spectacular Pali coast on Kauai's North Shore. In addition to the full schedule of activities provided by NCL America, special plans for our group include:

- Two on-board presentations by our own Captain Jerry Coffee;
- A special tour of the Headquarters of Camp Tarawa, WWII Marine Corps encampment at Parker Ranch (while in port Kona);

A special tour of Volcanoes National Park tailored for our group (while in port Hilo).

Sample fares are listed below. Please note that quoted fares are per person double occupancy and are subject to cabin availability and subject to change without notice. This is a popular sailing and cabins sell quickly so please make your reservations for this November 2005 Chapter cruise early.

| Category | Cruise Fares | Taxes & Fees |        | TOTAL      |
|----------|--------------|--------------|--------|------------|
|          |              | Starting At  |        | Per Person |

Your President's Message by Col. John Harms USMC (Ret.)

Many of our Chapter members have completed their military careers. A great number have gone on to become involved in an unbelievable number of activities, both second and third careers, as well as volunteer work in most all of the veterans' and other agencies on Oahu. Members of our Chapter present floral wreaths at most of the veterans' ceremonies like Memorial Day, Veterans Day, 50th anniversary of end of Korean War, and December 7.

Jack Miller, our acting president while I am on the mainland, is working with Lt. Cmdr. Pat Grandelli, USNR to promote the "First Shot Veterans" return to Hawaii dinner at the Hale Koa on 6 June. More details follow on page 7. Carl Hankwitz, our official photographer, will prepare a video exploring the returning veteran's experiences of December 7, 1941 when they fired the first shot of WW II in the Pacific.

Hank Heyenga, with the help of Ralph Hiatt who is on his second career, organizes and administers our JROTC and ROTC scholarship programs where we recognize exceptional young leaders in Hawaii High Schools and the University of Hawaii.

Judith Breitwieser is President of the Society of Military Widows. George Sullivan, our co-editor of the PHK is also Chairman of the Arizona Memorial Museum Association. John Peters is National President of the U. S. Submarine Veterans Association.

Admiral Bruce Smith is the key player at the US Navy Retired Activities Office at Pearl Harbor. He also heads the Chapter's Personal Affairs Committee (PAC) which has members from each uniform service to assist the surviving spouse of any of our departed members.

Captain Barbara Stakk represents our Chapter on the Health Consumer Committee at the Tripler Army Medical Center and I meet quarterly with the TriCare Hawaii staff to keep abreast of all and any changes or proposed changes to any of the TriCare programs.

We have membership in most of the Hawaii Veterans groups, such as the Hawaii Chamber of Commerce, Military Committee and the Oahu Veterans Council.

Guess the "bottom line" is that your Chapter is involved in a significant amount of activities to insure that Hawaii and National does not forget its veterans. Please consider getting involved yourself, on a short term project, with a beginning and ending date, or more into the operation of our Chapter on a regular basis.

Semper Fi, John

Personal Affairs By Rear Admiral Bruce Smith USN (Ret.)

The Advisory Board to TRIWEST (The primary contractor for health care provided to the military and their families) met at TAMC on Fri. 22 April at TAMC. The primary purpose of the meeting was to introduce a group representing the National Military Associations in Washington, DC to the attendees and to take their questions.

The questions from the floor dealt primarily with the National Guard and Reserves. Their health care plans differ somewhat from the TRICARE family of plans. Ms. Loretta Hales, the Family Readiness Coordinator for the Hawaii Air National Guard (HIANG) asked that any one in our Chapter that is in the HIANG provide her with their E-mail address so that her office can provide health information and assistance to members and their family of the HIANG. She can be reached at 448-7282.

MOAA National was represented by CDR John Glass MSC,USN (Ret.), Deputy Director Government Relations for Health Services. Another good source to tap in Washington. Your questions, if any, should be directed to COL John Harms who is the current member of the Advisory Board.

LCDR Roland P. Frodahl USN (Ret.), 93, of Kailua died March 24, 2005. He is survived by his daughter, Catherine.

LTC Ralph A. Metzger USA (Ret.), 94, of Honolulu died March 31, 2005. He is survived by a son, Robert, of La Jolla, CA and a daughter, Mary Lee Gorse, of Morristown, NJ.

LTC John G. Matthews USA (Ret.), 73, of Honolulu died April 9, 2005. He is survived by wife, Susan.

Binnacle List

LTC Bill McGarry, AUS (Ret) is recuperating at home.

Ruth Cope, wife of LtCol Bill Cope USAF (Ret.), is residing in the Leeward Health Services Nursing Home in Makaha. Both Ruth and Bill are Pearl Harbor Survivors.

On the Lite side

On some air bases the Air Force is on one side of the field and civilian aircraft use the other side of the field, with the control tower in the middle. One day the tower received a call from an aircraft asking, "What time is it?" The tower responded, "Who is calling?" The aircraft replied, "What difference does it make?" The tower replied, "It makes a lot of difference....."

If it is an American Airlines flight, it is 3 o'clock. If it is a Marine plane, it is 1500 hours. If it is a Navy aircraft, it is 6 bells. If it is an Army aircraft, the big hand is on the 12 and the little hand is on the 3. If it is an Air Force aircraft, it's Thursday afternoon and 120 minutes to "Happy Hour."

THE BRIDGE CORNER by Robbie Gee

The March 26, 2005 meeting of the MOAA Party Bridge group was hosted by Peg and Bud Hurless at the Hawaii Kai home of Robbie and Bob Gee and, although St. Patrick's Day had passed, the "Luck of the Irish" seemed to follow guest Marian Davis who took top score by bidding and making a Grand Slam. Following her in 2nd place was guest Alice Mather, and the 3rd place prize went to host Bud Hurless. Other challengers were Robbie and Bob Gee, hostess Peg Hurless, and Ginny Fine and her guest, Jill Lawrence.

Remember to call me at 255-4558 not later than the weekend beforehand to reserve your seat at the bridge table. Nonsmoking players of all abilities are welcome, with or without a partner. This is a FUN bunch who enjoy another opportunity to socialize with their MOAA friends and who don't take their bridge too seriously! The group usually meets on the last Saturday of the month at 1900 at various locations around the island on a rotation basis, but watch your Pau Hana Koa each month for the dates, as exceptions do occur.

Iraq and Afghanistan Campaign Medals

The Defense Department has announced two new campaign medals for service members serving in the Global War on Terror. The Afghanistan Campaign Medal and the Iraq Campaign Medal are authorized for members of the military who directly supported Operation Enduring Freedom beginning 24 October 2001 or Operation Iraqi Freedom beginning 19 March 2003. End-time dates have not been established for either campaign.

DoD said that military personnel may receive both campaign medals if they meet the requirements for both awards. To qualify, service members must have served in the appropriate region for 30 consecutive days or 60 non-consecutive days. Service members would also qualify for the award if they engaged in armed combat, regardless of time spent in the area of eligibility.

Disabled Soldier Support System (DS3)
by Cpt Tara Carr USARPAC

Soldiers returning home with disabling and severe combat wounds now have an Army system designed to help them transition back into military service or the civilian community. The Department of the Army launched the Disabled Soldier Support System (DS3) initiative to provide severely disabled Soldiers and their families with a system of advocacy and follow-up personal support.

The Army's goal for DS3 is for it to work in concert with other key organization to ensure that disabled Soldiers and families are given the care, support, and assistance they deserve for their selfless service and sacrifice to the Nation. DS3 incorporates and integrates existing programs to provide holistic support services. It facilitates communication and coordination between the Soldiers and their families and pertinent local, federal or national agencies. Support is provided through a phased approach. These phases include: Phase I – Notification and Evacuation; Phase II – Medical Care and Board Evaluation; and Phase III – Reintegration into the Army or transition to civilian employment.

Phase I – The Soldier becomes a casualty (by either hostile or non-hostile causes). The Soldier is categorized as Very Seriously Injured (VSI); Seriously Injured (SI); or Special Category (SPECAT), which initiates the DS3 process. SPECAT includes, but is not limited to: a severe injury, such as loss of limb, loss of sight, or permanent disfigurement; long term disease that may require extensive medical treatment or hospitalization; or established psychiatric conditions, such as Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

Once the nature of the injury/illness is determined and the Primary Next of Kin (PNOK) is notified, Invitation Travel Orders (ITOs) are issued to qualified family members. A DS3 Soldier Family Advocate (SFA) is assigned when the Soldier has been evacuated to a CONUS Medical Treatment Facility (MTF). DS3 staff provides assistance with and information on pay issues, options for Continuation of Active Duty (COAD), the Disability Evaluation System, as well as government and private sector employment opportunities.

Phase II – The Soldier arrives at a CONUS MTF where the primary effort is medical treatment. When the Soldier has reached maximum medical benefit, a physician evaluates the Soldier against medical retention standards. If the Soldier falls below those standards, they are referred to the Disability Evaluation System. At this point, the Soldier is contacted by the DS3 SFA who works in conjunction with the Department of Veterans Affairs to provide access to a network of information and resources for personal support and assistance. Once the recommendations of a Physical Evaluation Board (PEB) are returned, the Soldier may be medically retired via the Permanent Disability Retirement List (PDRL), placed on the Temporary Disability Retirement List (TDRL), or found fit and returned to duty. If the Soldier is medically retired or placed on the TDRL, in addition to continued support from the DS3 and VA, the Army Career and Alumni Program (ACAP) will counsel and provide transition assistance.

Phase III – This phase transitions the Soldier into the civilian community or returns the Soldier to duty. The Soldier is enrolled in VA medical care. TRICARE provides medical assistance and information on benefits, eligibility, and insurance options. ACAP continues to provide transitional and employment assistance. If the Soldier is medically retired, or separated, then upon request they will be placed in contact with a Veteran Service Office of their choice. The VSO places the injured Soldier in contact with veterans who have been similarly injured.

Each Soldier will have a military sponsor unit that is in geographic proximity to the Soldier after medical treatment. This sponsor unit aids in transition through local military facility support. This support may include moving of household goods, medical, or financial. DS3 provides follow-up and reactive assistance for a period of five years following medical retirement to help facilitate the Soldier's integration into their local communities.

Real News From Iraq by MG Pete Chiarelli, CG of the 1st Cav Div

Summarized by an attendee at a dinner at the Ft. Hood Officers' Club

1. While units of the Cav served all over Iraq, MG Chiarelli spoke mostly of Baghdad and more specifically Sadr City, the big slum on the eastern side of the Tigris River. He pointed out that Baghdad is, in geography, about the size of Austin TX which has 600,000 to 700,000 people. Baghdad has 6 to 7 million people.
2. The Cav lost 28 main battle tanks. He said one of the big lessons learned is that, contrary to doctrine going in, M1-A2s and Bradleys are needed, preferred and devastating in urban combat and he is going to make that point to the JCS while they are considering downsizing armor.
3. He did not lose a single tanker truck carrying oil and gas over the roads of Iraq. All the attacks we saw on TV with IEDs hitting trucks but he didn't lose one. Why? Army Aviation. Praised his air units and said they made the decision early on that every convoy would have helicopter air cover. Said aviators in that unit were hitting the 1,000 hour mark. Said a convoy was supposed to head out but stopped at the gates of a compound on the command of an E6. He asked the SSG what the hold up was. E6 said, "Air, sir." He wondered what was wrong with the air, not realizing what the kid was talking about. Then the AH-64s showed up and the E6 said, "That air sir." And then moved out.
4. He showed a graph of attacks in Sadr City by month. Last Aug-Sep they were getting up to 160 attacks per week. During the last three months, the graph had flat-lined at below 5 to zero per week.
5. His big point was not that they were "winning battles" to do this but that cleaning the place up, electricity, sewage, water were the key factors. He said they fought but after they started delivering services that the Iraqis never had, ter-

- rorist recruiting of 15 and 16 year olds came up empty.
  6. Pointed out that we all heard from the media about the 100 Iraqis killed as they were lined up to enlist in the police and security service. What the media didn't point out was that the next day there 300 lined up in the same place.
  7. One of the biggest problems was money and regs. There was a $77 million gap between the supplemental budget and what he needed in cash on the ground to get projects started. He spent most of his time trying to get money; didn't do much as a "combat commander" because the war he was fighting was a war at the squad and platoon level. His NCOs were winning the war and it was a sight to behold.
  8. Of all the money appropriated for Iraq, not a cent was earmarked for agriculture. Iraq could feed itself completely and still have food for export but no one thought about it. The Cav started working with Texas A&M on ag projects and had special hybrid seeds sent to them through Jordan. TAM analyzed soil samples and worked out how and what to plant. He had an E7 from Belton, TX (just down the road from Ft. Hood) who was almost single-handedly rebuilding the ag industry in the Baghdad area.
  9. He could hire hundreds of Iraqis daily for $7 to $10 a day to work on sewer, electric, water projects, etc. but that the contracting rules from CONUS applied so he had to have $500,000 insurance policies in place in case the workers got hurt. Not kidding. The CONUS peacetime regs slowed everything down, even if they could eventually get waivers.
- The bottom line: The Cav troops said it was ALL worth it on Jan. 30 when they saw how the Iraqis handled election day. Made them very proud of their service and what they had accomplished.

TUG by Colonel Lou Torraca, USAF (Retired)

I thought I'd follow-up my last column with some "tips" for making computing more fun. As most of you know, I am an avid collector of "tips" which I get from all kinds of sources - newsletters, web pages, radio/TV programs, newspapers...anyhow, you get the idea.

Following are some of my favorite tips I've tried and used, I hope you enjoy them.

WINDOWS XP - TAKE CONTROL OF THE PROGRAMS LISTED ON YOUR START MENU

You can take control over exactly what programs appear on your start menu, and keep Windows from adding your most recently used programs to the Start menu. Here's how.

First, you have to stop Windows from adding programs to the Start menu whenever you use them. Right-click on the Start button and choose Properties. Click on Customize. In the Programs section of the Customize Start Menu window. Set the Number of programs on Start menu: to zero. Click OK.

Now you can set programs to always appear on your Start menu. Click on Start and then on All Programs. Right-click on the icon that starts the program you want to add to the Start menu. Click on Pin To Start Menu. Repeat the process for any programs you want to always be on your Start menu.

STOP THAT PRINT JOB FAST

Once you start a print job, your printer spits out printed pages until the print job is finished. Every once in a while you'll want to actually stop a print job, and to do that you'll have to get to your Printer's folder. In almost every case, you won't make it on time because you are going through your control panel to get to your Printer's folder.

By the time you get there, your print job is already done. There is a faster, easier way.

When you send files to your printer you'll notice that a Printer icon appears in the Taskbar's Notification Area (formerly System Tray) on the far right side of your Taskbar. Double-click this icon to open it, and then right-click on the print job you want to stop. Click Cancel on the Shortcut menu.

INTERNET EXPLORER - HOW TO GET BACK TO THE HOME PAGE

For most of us, Internet Explorer opens on the Internet with what it calls your home page. The home page is the default URL that Internet Explorer uses to get you on the Internet. When you leave your home page and go out on the net, there may be time when you'll want to return to your home page. There are three ways you can instantly return to your home page in Internet Explorer. Most of us click on the icon of a home on the Internet Explorer toolbar, but there are two additional ways to return to your home page by using your keyboard. You can hold down the Alt key and tap the Home key. That will take you directly back to your home page. You can also click in the address bar, where your current page is displayed. After clicking there, type two periods and press the Enter key.

Bingo, you're back at your home page.

INTERNET EXPLORER - MAKE LINKS OPEN IN A NEW BROWSER WINDOW

What if you're looking at a Web site with your Internet Explorer browser, you go to look at your e-mail, and you click a link in one or those email messages. Internet Explorer will open that link in the window that was opened to the Web site you were first looking at. Do this a few times and you may lose track of your original Web site altogether. I think it would be better to change this particular behavior so that Internet Explorer doesn't use the existing open window when you click a link. Here's how you can do it. From within Internet Explorer, click on Tools on the top menu bar and then select Internet Options, click on the Advanced tab. Under the Browsing heading there is an item called "Reuse windows for launching shortcuts." Uncheck the box, click on Apply and click on OK. Unchecking this box will cause any links that you click on from within Internet Explorer to open in a new browser.

INTERNET EXPLORER - USE TIP OF THE DAY

Most of us use Microsoft Internet Explorer to browse the Internet. Internet Explorer, like most Microsoft programs, has a treasure trove of features that make it easier to use and enables you to be a power user. The problem is finding all of that information. One way to learn more about Internet Explorer's features and how to use them is with the Tip Of The Day feature. From within Internet Explorer, click on Help and then click on Tip of the Day. The Tip of the Day bar appears with the first tip. Click on Next tip, located on the far right of the tip bar, to display another tip. When you turn on Tip of the Day, it will remain "on" until you turn it off. That means that if you close Internet Explorer with the tip feature on, it will still be turned on and show you a new tip when you next open Internet Explorer. To close Tip of the Day, click on the X located to the far left of the tip bar. Try using the Tip of the Day. It contains valuable information that can help you make better use of Internet Explorer.

That's it for May and until next time, happy computing. Come see us at one of our future meetings. Visit

On December 7, 1941 USS Ward DD 139 was ready and did its job!!

On December 7, 1941, at 0645, seventy minutes before the bombing of Pearl Harbor began, a little-known naval victory occurred offshore of Honolulu. The USS Ward, a twenty-something-year-old antisubmarine warship crewed by naval reservists from Minnesota, sighted an unknown submarine that was attempting to sneak into the harbor.

During a brief engagement at high speed in rough seas and poor light, the crew shot and sank the submarine using their manually trained 4" gun.

This is the story Ward's crew has stuck by for years. It seemed too fantastic to some officials and naval historians. Where was the proof? Finally, in 2002 the sunken Japanese midget sub was found by University of Hawaii research submersibles. It was resting on sand at 1200 feet deep, with a 4" shell hole in the conning tower precisely where the Ward's novice crew had said they'd hit it.

With the benefit of sixty-one years of hindsight, these "First Shot Naval Vets" have given us a proud legacy. They were young naval reservists who were mobilized from America's heartland while our country was technically at "peace". Yet when the time for action came, they proved that they were READY!!!

The Naval Reserve Center here in Honolulu and the Navy League of Hawaii feel a link in the chain with the Ward's crew. Everyone knows about the Pearl Harbor attack, but many fewer know about the Ward's victory.

The plan is to bring six veteran sailors from Minnesota to Hawaii during the first week of June under the sponsorship of the Navy League in Hawaii to have the privilege to tell our nation this newly-finished history. Several civic and veterans organizations are hosting this visit to encourage our citizens and troops currently serving by showing them the fine example of USS Ward. The cost to bring out the six vets is approximately $9000. Some individuals and organizations have already pledged support, including $1500 from the Arizona Memorial Museum Association.

If you want to help with this project, please send a donation to: Honolulu Council of the Navy League of the United States, PO Box 31032, Honolulu, HI 96820-1032. Please mark your donation: "First Shot Naval Vets Visit".
